The future of freight - water solutions

Presenters: Gerald Heward Peter Hugman

The logistics of moving heavy or bulky materials around the country is and always has been complex. Hauliers often rely purely on road transport (ignoring the damage that the increasing numbers of HGVs does to the National Road Infrastructure) There are other options. Railways and Waterways are ideal for moving items in bulk about the country. Of these the waterways are often overlooked or regarded as out of date whereas they are possibly one of the most energy efficient ways of delivering bulk materials. Gerald Heward and Peter Hugman will make the case for making greater use of Britains Industrail Waterways

There will be an opportunity to take part in the debate and to question the speaker.
